The BYU Passover Seder service includes the biblical unleavened bread and bitter herbs, and features other festival foods and traditions of Passover, all in a specially catered meal. The Seder is hosted and led by Dr. Jeffrey Chadwick, BYU Religious Education (Jewish Studies) and Jerusalem Center professor.

It will be an evening of cultural learning with scripture connections. It promises to be an enriching experience, centered on an appreciation of the ancient Israelite and modern Jewish celebration that commemorates the deliverance of Israel from Egypt. This is a 40-year tradition at BYU.

The Seder lasts approximately 3 hours. Sunday dress is appropriate.

Meet at the Senior Center to travel to BYU in the Senior Center’s van. We will return at approximately 9:30 p.m. *Price is $35 through March 11th. After March 11th, price increases to $39. Tickets have been purchased so refunds are not available unless you can find someone to take your place.
